

TATTLE TALES

Essays & Stories Along the Way

Tattle Tales: Essays & Stories Along the Way is a delightful assortment of thoughtful short stories that are insightful and engaging. This collection shares the truths found in our lives through carefully developed themes that resonate easily with our own realities. The book travels around the country and the world with its short stories and essays. East Coast, West Coast, and across the continent.

Essays range from a riff on the importance of finding a well-fitting bra to fictional imaginings about a divorcée who seeks healing on her trip to a remote Caribbean island. The author's keen perception and compassion light the way in this diverse assembly of entertaining observational gems.

“The most memorable entries are those that skew toward fiction; “Lace” is particularly lovely example of Rolnick’s mastery at conjuring images of such things as handmade lace and deep-sea diving, which highlight the allure of travel....Rolnick offers many observational gems to enjoy.

Resonant reflections from a skilled literary artist.”

--Kirkus Review

“In Tattle Tales, Abbe Rolnick’s joie de vivre is evident. These stories and essays take you to an inner realm where Abbe, the observer, contemplates an ever-changing landscape called life. Her enthusiasm and passion thread through each thoughtful piece.”

--Mary Elizabeth Gillilan, Editor, Clover: A Literary Rag

Abbe Rolnick grew up in Baltimore and experienced her first major cultural jolt at age 15 when her family moved to Miami Beach, Florida. History came alive with her exposure to Cuban culture. After attending Boston University, she lived in Puerto Rico, where she owned a bookstore. River of Angels, flowing from her experiences there, is the first novel in a series that continues with Color of Lies and Founding Stones. Abbe resides with her husband Jim on twenty acres in Skagit Valley, Washington.
